Flyway: No Ordinary Destination

WEBSTER, TX—Perfectly positioned midway between downtown Houston and sun-drenched Galveston, a new destination is taking shape along I-45 in Webster's southeast quadrant. Flyway, a Webster Economic Development Corporation (WEDC) project, is unfolding with iconic entertainment, dining, recreation, and sports entertainment venues anchored by the region's only Great Wolf Lodge indoor waterpark resort hotel and conference center.

The 80+-acre destination development will fuse the indoors with the outdoors with best-in-class dining and entertainment venues amid a walkable, inviting atmosphere with a boardwalk, event lawn, and unique amenities. Flyway takes patios to the next level, creating walkable spaces and allowing visitors to extend their stay and visit multiple venues. Visitors can purchase drinks from any establishment, stroll along the boardwalk, talk amid the trails, and enjoy the natural surroundings.

The Webster Economic Development team is actively recruiting riveting sports entertainment venues, top-notch restaurants and bars, and exciting recreation to the development. Build-ready parcels are currently for purchase, giving each venue the power to establish one-of-a-kind spaces that exemplify each distinctive identity.

With Great Wolf Lodge as the anchor, Flyway will reach a super-regional and global audience. Visitors will come to Great Wolf Lodge and extend their stay to visit the irresistible, dynamic venues within Flyway.

Premier venues will be announced soon. Follow Flyway on Facebook and visit flywaytx.com for updates.
